

Stanford Undergraduate Student Completion Rates
BACHELOR DEGREE RECIPIENTS
Entering Years 2003-04 through 2016-17

First Time Freshmen	Percent Graduating within:
Entering Year	No. New Students	4 Years	More than 4 Years
2003-04	1641	79.3%	96.8%
2004-05	1645	78.4%	96.7%
2005-06	1632	78.9%	98.0%
2006-07	1646	79.7%	97.9%
2007-08	1721	76.1%	96.9%
2008-09	1703	76.2%	96.9%
2009-10	1692	75.2%	96.8%
2010-11	1672	75.0%	96.7%
2011-12	1704	74.7%	96.6%
2012-13	1762	74.9%	96.7%
2013-14	1674	72.9%	95.9%
2014-15	1677	74.0%	95.2%
2015-16	1719	77.2%	90.5%
2016-17	1738	72.8%

Note: In recent years, about 30% of undergraduate students enroll in one of Stanford's Coterminal Bachelor's and Master's Degree programs. The Coterminal Program permits Stanford undergraduates to study for a bachelor's and a master's degree simultaneously. Students in this program may take additional time to complete the bachelor's degree, yet overall, they graduate at a rate higher than the average for the class as a whole.

Source: SIRIS